

No unpaid carer in crisis

Your gift will help support unpaid carers of all ages. We know that leaving a gift in your will to charity is a big decision. By doing so, you'll be helping to ensure that no unpaid carer is left in crisis.

So when the time is right, and your family and loved ones are taken care of, we'd be honoured if you left a gift to Caring Together.

Partnered with:

Leave a gift in your Will

and help ensure that no unpaid carer is left in crisis.

How to leave a gift in your Will:

Online: We partner with Farewill (regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority), the largest Will writing service in the UK. Write your will in the comfort of your own home – in as little as 20 minutes! Visit farewill.com/caringtogether-1

Telephone: Farewill also provides a telephone service. You can speak to a Will specialist on the phone who will guide you through the process. Call now on: 0203 318 4279

In-person: Meet with a local solicitor to have your Will made or updated for free. This service is provided by our partner, the National Free Wills Network. They'll send you a list of solicitors in your area. Simply fill out the form at: mynetworkportal.org/CaringTogetherCharity

Leaving a gift in your Will truly is the gift of a lifetime

Gifts in Wills made to Caring Together will support unpaid carers in the East of England, and will allow us to reach more people sooner, before they reach crisis point.

They will also allow for us to continue running our vital services, such as support for children who are carers, our free counselling sessions, and carers hubs.

A legacy gift will allow us to continue our vital work, and always be here for unpaid carers.

We're incredibly grateful to everyone who includes a gift in their Will to Caring Together Charity. You will be leaving a legacy of a lifetime, and we couldn't do what we do without you.

Thank you.

"We wanted to choose a charity that was doing important work, was doing that work well, and was making a real difference.

Caring Together was an obvious choice for us".
